NO MAN IS STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

Let the greatest athlete have dyspepsia and his muscles would soon fall. Physical strength is derived from food. If a man has insufficient food he loses strength. If he has no food he dies. Food is converted into nutrition through the stomach and bowels. It depends on the strength of the stomach to what extent food is digested and assimilated. People can die of starvation who have abundant food to eat, when the stomach and its associate organs of digestion and nutrition do not perform their duty. Thus the stomach is really the vital organ of the body. If the stomach is "weak" the body will be weak also, because it is upon the stomach the body relies for its strength. And as the body, considered as a whole, is made up of its several members and organs, so the weakness of the body as a consequence of "weak" stomach will be distributed among the organs which compose the body. If the body is weak because it is ill-nourished that physical weakness will be found in all the organs—heart, liver, kidneys, etc. The liver will be torpid and inactive, giving rise to biliousness, loss of appetite, weak digestion and a general feeling of heart palpitation, dizziness, headache, backache and kindred disturbances and weaknesses.

Mr. Louis Pave, of Quebec, writes: "For years after my health began to fail, my head grew dizzy, eyes pained me, and my stomach was sore all the time, while everything I would eat would seem to be heavy like lead on my stomach. The doctors claimed that it was sympathetic trouble due to dyspepsia, and prescribed for me, and although I took their powders regularly yet I felt no better. My wife advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and upon taking that I was cured. I became normal, the digestive organs worked perfectly and I soon began to look like a different person. I can never cease to be grateful for what your medicine has done for me and I certainly give it highest praise."

"Don't be wheedled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be just as good."

To gain knowledge of your own body—in sickness and health—send for the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser. A book of 1008 pages. Sent for 21 one-cent stamps or paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 603 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

DISCRIMINATING LADIES.

Enjoy Using Herpelde on Account of Its Distinctiveness.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpelde speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it always that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpelde effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out and later baldness; in killing it, Herpelde stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpelde Co., Detroit, Mich.

Victims of Steamship Sharks.

A Baltimore passenger of the German steamship Kronprinz Wilhelm, which arrived at New York Monday, is said to be among those swindled by six professional gamblers, of whom one was a woman, out of $10,000. Fake wireless telegrams, bridge whist and poker were the mediums by which they lured their victims. The swindlers succeeded, in spite of the warning, "beware of professional gamblers" which was placarded all over the ship.

The gang of swindlers boarded the ship at Cherbourg, and before she had been a day out the passengers began to fall prey to their wiles. One of the first was Jean Bedin, of Philadelphia. The gamblers used dice to get his money. They won $300 from him during the ten minutes of play.

The second victim was Marinus Goodhardt. The gamblers suggested bridge, and Mr. Goodhardt being willing, a game was started in the Vienna cafe. In a short time $500 of Mr. Goodhardt's money was tucked away in the pockets of the players. Besides the money was an "I. O. U." for $150 which bore Mr. Goodhardt's name.

When the gamblers had cleared up all they could with cards and dice they thought themselves of wireless telegraphy and soon were at work among the credulous, who thought to fatten their purses by an easy road. C. J. Preusser, who said he was from the Philippines, was one of those who gave ear. He says that he lost several thousand dollars. A West Virginia man, who refused to give his name, said that he had also bet heavily at this game.

One of the methods of the schemers was for two of the men and the woman, who was beautiful and blond, to go among the passengers, get acquainted and then propose a game of cards. When the game was under way with a victim the other three swindlers would stroll up and, to use the words of one victim, "butt in," resorting to all kinds of tricks to fleece the unsuspecting victims. Many of the victims were personally warned against the players, but failed to heed.

The sharps drew forth aerograms purporting to show that they had inside information which would beat the Miller syndicate scheme to smash. The messages purported to come from New York, and to show that the horse races and Wall street were being run and conducted for the exclusive enrichment of the recipients.

The ringleader of the sharps represented himself a wealthy mining man from Goldfield, Nevada. He pretended that he was a friend of C. M. Schwab and that he was to be his guest on an automobile tour of the United States.

A good complexion is impossible with the stomach out of order. If pasty sallow people would pay more attention to their stomachs and less to the skin on their faces, they would have a better complexion. KODOL FOR DYSPEPSIA will digest what you eat and put your stomach back right in shape to do its own work. Kodol relieves palpitation of the heart, flatulence, sour stomach, heart burn, etc. Sold by W. F. Croughan & Co., 401 King St.

Postoffice Appropriation Bill.

The Senate yesterday passed the postoffice appropriation bill, carrying an appropriation of $192,485,000, and immediately afterwards adjourned over Memorial Day until Thursday. The entire day was devoted to the consideration of the bill as a whole, and to special features of the bill. The debate dealt with the questions of the fast mail train to the South; second class mail matter; including the admission to the mails of the publications of colleges, universities and charitable and educational institutions to the mails as second class matter; subsidies for Pacific mail steamships and questions relating to the boxes used on rural free delivery routes.

Senator Mallory defended the subsidy as in the interest of an improved mail service. He said that the Southern Railway, on which the fast mail trains run, is the most direct route from Washington to Atlanta. Senator Money also spoke in support of the subsidy plan, saying that it had done much in the past 20 years to keep the South in touch with the country at large. He opposed all efforts to give the Postmaster General discretion in the matter of sustaining the system.

Senators Bacon and Foster also defended the present service. The Georgia senator contended that if the Mallory amendment should be accepted it would have the effect of doing away with the subsidy character of the appropriation, while Mr. Foster declared that the committee amendment would have the effect of discontinuing the expedited service.

Senator Pettus also spoke in support of the expedited service. After he concluded the Mallory amendment was adopted. It provides that the Postmaster General shall not be required to expend the money appropriated "unless it be necessary to provide the same or as good a service as now provided."

A Year of Blood.

The year 1903 will long be remembered in the home of F. N. Tackett, of Alliance, Ky., as a year of blood; which flowed so copiously from Mr. Tackett's lungs that death seemed very near. He writes: "Severe bleeding from the lungs and a frightful cough had brought me at death's door, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, with the astonishing result that after taking four bottles I was completely restored and as time has proven permanently cured." Guaranteed for Sore Throats, Coughs and Colds, at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.
